

There is no legitimate reason to accept NAB's petition 04-160. As it is, radio and TV needs to have more competition to result in overall better programming. FM radio, at one time, was largely commercial free, whereas today, most stations are loaded with advertisements. Much of the same arguments existed when cable was originally started, and once again, when satellite TV was started. I urge you to reject petition 04-160.